

NICOLE BAPTISTA

UNDERGRAD: VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY

GRAD SCHOOL: UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA SCHOOL OF LAW

CASEWORK INTERN MAY - AUGUST 2018

Nicole Baptista graduated from Vanderbilt University in 2018 and began her career at TJC as a legal intern. She was subsequently hired by TJC as a Client Advocate and worked full-time at TJC for one year (September 2018 – July 2019) until attending the University of Georgia School of Law from 2019 to 2022.

At UGA Law, Nicole was President of the Health Law Society and interned with several medical-legal partnerships, as well as the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). She is now an attorney at Greenberg Traurig in Washington, D.C., in the Health Care & FDA Practice Group. Since 2022, Nicole has regularly assisted physician groups, home health agencies, residential care facilities, med spas, and laboratories with issues related to licensing, billing/coding, reimbursement, telehealth, and the corporate practice of medicine. She also assists manufacturers and distributors of pharmaceutical, medical device, food/beverage, dietary supplement, and cosmetic products on complying with FDA and FTC regulations. Nicole's services include, but are not limited to, providing regulatory counseling, conducting compliance audits, drafting contracts and policies, submitting licensing applications, and conducting due diligence for mergers and acquisitions.
